On The Journey

+As Christians, we worship a God who loves us so much that He became human for our sake and went the extra mile of love – dying an excruciating and humiliating death on a cross. Paul reassures us in the second reading that, as we are human and in the likeness of Adam – complete with sin – so we will also take on the likeness of Jesus, the heavenly one.

That's a reassuring thought when we read the Gospel, in which Jesus describes what He expects from those who follow Him. We are called to see with God's eyes – to see our enemies as brothers or sisters and to love them. We are to return good to those who mistreat us.

In the first reading, we get a glimpse of God's ability to transform people. David, even though he knows that Saul plans to kill him, spares Saul when he has the chance to do harm instead. His reverence for God's anointing of Saul is what stays his hand. David chooses the higher ground that, centuries later, would be taught by his descendent and Lord, Jesus Christ.

Often, we fall short of the standards Jesus set for us, but other times we might come close, as David did in the first reading. Could we take time out of a busy day to listen to a friend who needs to talk, or give up a free day to volunteer at a place of need like a soup kitchen or homeless shelter? Do we call on reserves of patience to listen quietly when an angry friend or colleague complains to us?

Because we are human, we might not live out these expectations consistently, but if we stay closer to Jesus in prayer, we can trust that He is transforming us, step by step, into his image. As Lent approaches, take advantage of this special season to spend more time with Jesus and more time serving others, allowing the Lord to transform each of us into companions on the journey as missionary disciples.

+Hopefully you enjoyed a couple days of rest with the Presidents Day holiday this past week. As I return from vacation and a relaxing time, it is always good to be "home." (With the warm weather in Florida, the palms were looking good and ready for our Palm Sunday celebrations!) You are always in the good hands of a very capable staff in all our various areas of ministry and school. I thank them for "holding down the fort" for us while I was away! Good to see you in church as always!

Parish Mission Statement

Welcome ...

If you have been attending Mass at St. Andrew and would like to become a member, please visit the Parish Office where you can register and discover all the wonderful ways to grow in faith through Christian Service and Outreach, Faith Formation and Youth Ministry, Parish Life, Stewardship and Worship. For more information call 248.651.7486. ¡Bienvenido!

Well, the weather hasn't cooperated lately, but we are still making progress. The vestibule (east side) has been fully enclosed, the dry wall has gone up and is being sanded, and once that's complete the tile floor will start being laid; the heating/cooling system will go in and painting the walls can begin. The stain glass from the old doors has started being installed in the new windows as well.

And in spite of the weather, the masons have continued to work on the gathering space bearing wall, and once done, they will begin with the veneer (outside wall) bricks to match the existing church. As soon as the bearing wall is done, the steel beams will go in and they will begin working getting the utilities in and then on to enclosing it.

Did YOU Know? ... The “Hearts a Glow” Anniversary Fundraiser for CCRT, Catholic Community Response Team is an important fundraising event! This evening will include lots of Fun, Beer & Wine Tasting, a delicious meal, the Notre Dame Prep Band and a whole lot of FUN! The Hearts Aglow event is important to the operation of CCRT. Opened in 2004 by our area Catholic churches, CCRT workers provide direct referral and support services to those in crisis in the Pontiac area. CCRT also seeks to build a bridge between the Pontiac community where roughly 50% of children live at or below the poverty level, and the surrounding area consisting of many affluent suburbs in Oakland County. In it's 15 year history, CCRT has served over 9,000 persons regardless of race or creed. 100% of all donations and grants (excluding an Operating Grant from the Archdiocese) have gone to direct client services... including food, shelter, clothing, and utility support. Given the current economic environment, CCRT is finding it very difficult to meet the needs of the growing client base.

Saint Andrew Parishioners are asked to consider attending this fundraiser. Tickets are available at the office for $50. Please support this Pontiac Area Vicariate event. Make it a family/friend social event. You'll be glad you did. April 11 is just around the corner.

Eucharistic Adoration and Exposition

Friday, March 1, 2019 from 9:00AM-7:00PM St. Andrew Chapel

What is exposition of the Blessed Sacrament?

Exposition is the placement of the sacred host outside the tabernacle for public adoration. This can take many forms. The simplest form is the opening of the tabernacle doors. Another form is the removal of the sacred vessels from the tabernacle for a more prominent and visible placement. The Church also permits a "full" exposition, when the sacred host is clearly visible in a vessel called a "monstrance".

What is the purpose of exposition of the Blessed Sacrament?

There are three purposes of Eucharistic exposition: (1) to acknowledge Christ's marvelous presence in the sacrament; (2) to lead us to a fuller participation in the celebration of the Eucharist, culminating in Holy Communion; and (3) to foster the worship which is due to Christ in spirit and in truth.

What are the fruits of Eucharistic adoration?

People who observe Eucharistic adoration experience a deeper devotion to Jesus, and this manifests itself in countless ways. The primary fruits are repentance and conversion which lead to increased charity - that is, the love of Christ alive in His people. The adoration of Jesus in the Eucharist also leads to greater reverence at Mass, a deeper desire for personal holiness, and a stronger sense of union with the parish and the whole Church. Ever since the early centuries of Christianity, the Church has linked Eucharistic devotion to service to the poor. More recently, the practice has led to an increase in vocations to the priesthood, diaconate and religious life.

The Golden Rule

"Do to others as you would have them do to you." NOT do to others as they do to you, or do to others that which makes you feel powerful, or do to others when you get around to it. Everyone can recite the Golden Rule. Even small children understand it. It describes a loving way to conduct our lives. And it comes straight from Jesus in the bible, Luke 6:27 and Matthew 7:12.

In Matthew it says, "In everything do to others as you would have them do to you; for this is the law {of Moses} and the prophets." Luke takes it further, telling us Jesus says to "Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you." Other World Religions have versions of this concept. My favorite quote from Mahatma Gandhi says, "Be the change you wish to see in the world."

Knowing the rule doesn't automatically make it easy to follow. But it should encourage the practice of kindness, empathy, tolerance and compassion. As you see your efforts aid others, you will benefit as well. WWJD? He lived for us so we could live for others, too.

Blessings, Maureen Schreffler

Express Your Dominance...Fast

Does Your Phone Own You?

Do you ever count the number of times you look at your phone in an hour? What about a whole day? I find myself checking my phone a lot, especially when I'm bored. It's so much of a habit, that when I don't check my phone, I get antsy. "Did someone text me? What if they need me? What if Bryan fell down a well and needs me to save him? I'm important. I need to look at my phone!" And then there's nothing when I check.

Every time I take a break from soccer, volleyball, or a meeting, I check my phone. One day, in the car on the way to mass, my sister called me out. "What, the four people in this car isn't good enough? You need to use your phone?" And she was right. I wasn't showing love and respect to my family because I was with them physically, but I tried to be somewhere else.

We get so caught up in certain things that we become a slave to it. I am a slave to YouTube videos when I keep clicking the next video, but know I should be doing something more valuable with my time. I'm a slave to my bed in the morning because I never want to get out of it. The more we say no to sleeping in, that second YouTube video, going on Instagram every five minutes, etc, the freer we become. If you can't sit or go for a walk for an hour without looking at your phone, or getting an itch to want to do something else, you are not free.

People say, "I'm free to do what I want, when I want." All I can think is, "Can you freely say no to it?" Take a look at your life choices as far as why you're doing something. If you're watching videos to feel less lonely, ask a friend to hangout, go to the movies, the park, play volleyball, set up minute to win it games, build a fort or a tree house, go for a bike ride, etc. When we are able to substitute bad habits with good ones, we will have a much happier and freer life.

What's Happening with the Knights of Columbus

Spring is just around the corner and that marks the beginning of our Lenten Fish Fry. Beginning on Friday (March 8th) and every Friday thru Easter we will be serving at the Rochester Community House from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. We have made several improvements this year thanks in part to the updates that the City of Rochester has approved at the Community House. The food is always great and reasonably priced for the entire family. All proceeds go right back to those in need in the area and also helps to fund our scholarship program.

We are also now on Facebook! Please look for us as "Knights Columbus" or "Knights of Columbus Rochester". Send us a Friend Request so we can help to stay connected. This is a great way to see how we support the community and get to know the families who make up our group.

As also mentioned, we offer Scholarship opportunities to the family members of our council Knights. These are available to students from all grades including College who are enrolled in Catholic education. For more details please contact your parish representative or email "kofc5452@gmail.com"
