On The Journey

+Even in our time, when democracy and equality are held in high regard, kings connote the idea of majesty, power and absolute authority. Fairy tales, cartoons and modern television specials about aristocrats of old seem to draw out our fascination with earlier times, when kings and queens ruled their nations and received unquestioned loyalty.

We see some of that splendor in today's second reading as we celebrate the Feast of Jesus Christ, King of the Universe. Indeed, the majesty of kings and queens of old is magnified several degrees as we contemplate Jesus, the image of the invisible God, who was present at creation, through whom all things were created, and who is filled with divinity. When we think of how vast our universe is – and we're learning more and more of its unbelievable size practically every day – we can only begin to fathom the majesty of Jesus, King of that universe.

Yet the other readings move us to reflect on another aspect of kingship – service to the people and mercy to those in need. In the first reading from Samuel, as the Israelites anoint David as King of Israel, they recognize not only his success in battle but his call by God to shepherd his people. The Israelites welcome David as King because of his care for them – the same care he gave to the sheep in his father's flock before God called him to kingship.

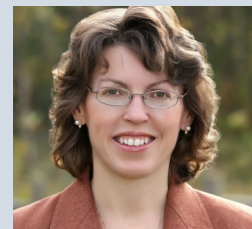

Jesus shows an even greater depth of care for his people. Enthroned on the cross – his only earthly throne to date- Jesus dies for love of God's people, to bring salvation and everlasting life to them. Even more, a short time before his agonizing death, He turns to the dying thief crucified next to Him with merciful words of assurance: Today you will be with me in Paradise.

Jesus shows us his identity as a serene, humble and loving King and God in his last moments on earth – the kind of King that we as Christians can joyfully give our own lives to. Jesus' majesty as the eternal God and King is matched by his love – a love that drove Him to a horrible death for our salvation.

What does this incredible King call us to? How can we serve Jesus, whose power and glory as God are matched only by the depth of his love? As Christians, we are baptized into his service – each called to serve Jesus and his kingdom in a unique way, according to our particular gifts, temperament and life circumstances. As King and as shepherd of our souls, Jesus calls us step by step into his service. He reveals our call, our role in his kingdom, from one moment to the next – if we take the time to pray and listen to his voice.

May we be grateful to our King for all the blessings bestowed upon us! May we be energized to live our faith in Jesus in the service of our sisters and brothers!

+As we prepare to enter into the new liturgical year, we have the “little blue books” available once again to help everyone on their upcoming Advent journey in preparation for the Feast of the Incarnation – Christmas. Also, we have again been gifted by the Potere-Modetz Funeral Homes and Viviano Flowers for providing us with our 2020 parish calendars. (I still can’t quite completely wrap my mind around that year/that number 2020 quite yet!) Please patronize them in gratitude for the support they offer us.

+With the start of the new liturgical year next weekend, you will notice some changes to our parish stationery logos and bulletin masthead. With roots going back as far as our centennial celebration in 2012, there had been talk (even before I got here) about updating the logo and masthead; now while we have tweaked that over time, the bigger changes are forthcoming next weekend. You remember the contest we held to help design the new logo...well now you’ll get to see it starting to appear! Thanks to everyone who helped with the changes!

+Remember that Thanksgiving Day mass is at 9 a.m. in the church (that later time lets you get some of the necessary preparations for dinner started!) May you and your families have a blessed and enjoyable Thanksgiving celebration however you may spend it! As I mentioned last week and as you read this article today, I should hopefully be basking in some sun and warmth down in Florida for a shortened week, returning on Friday after Thanksgiving. As always, I look forward to seeing you in church next weekend as we begin the New Year of Grace 2020!

WORSHIP

Holy Hour for Intercessory Prayer

Monday, November 25

On Monday, November 25 at the conclusion of daily Mass, there will be a Holy Hour with Exposition and adoration for the intentions of intercessory prayer. All are welcome!

The Feast of Christ the King, properly celebrated in the Roman Catholic church as the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe, recognizes Jesus Christ as lord over all creation. It was established by Pope Pius XI in 1925 in his encyclical letter in response to growing nationalism and secularism. He wanted to remind Christians that their allegiance was to their spiritual ruler in heaven as opposed to earthly supremacy claimed by dictators at that time.

Originally, the feast was celebrated on the last Sunday in October, but in the revised liturgical calendar promulgated by Pope Paul VI in 1969, it was moved to the last Sunday of Ordinary Time (immediately preceding Advent), where its theme of Christ's dominion made it a fitting end to the liturgical year. (Sources: Vatican.va, Loyola Press, Britannica.com)

The Gospel we proclaim shows the great mystery of our faith: In the moment of his crucifixion, Jesus is shown to be King and Savior of all. Jesus is King, but not the kind of king we might have imagined or expected. His kingship was hidden from many of his contemporaries, but those who had the eyes of faith were able to see. As modern disciples of Jesus, we, too, struggle at times to recognize Jesus as King. Today's Gospel invites us to make our own judgment. With eyes of faith, we, too, recognize that Jesus, the crucified One, is indeed King and Savior of all.

New Liturgical Year Begins Next Weekend

Next Sunday is the first Sunday of Advent, (from, "ad-venire" in Latin or "to come to") a period of expectant longing encompassing the four Sundays (and weekdays) leading up to the celebration of Christmas. The Advent season should be a time for us to slow down, to prepare ourselves for Christ's second coming at the end of time and also for the anniversary of the Lord's birth on Christmas.

We mark this change in seasons with a change in liturgical color, moving from green to violet. Decorations will be subdued and moderate. The Advent Wreath will be used to help us mark the weeks until Christmas.

The Little Books are available in the chapel hallway. In addition you can go online with Dynamic Catholic and sign up for the Best Advent Ever to receive daily email reflections, Candlelight prayer will be offered, the Interfaith Choir Concert will be hosted at the parish and through the FORMED.org website, you can take the opportunity to grow in faith during the Advent season. Additional Resources include the online ministries of Creighton University, which offers a prayer a day for Advent, Loyola Press which has links on its page for Advent family prayers, meal prayers, Prayers for the Advent wreath, etc., Ignationspirituality.com offers, video reflections and more in the Advent section of its website and Xavier University with its Jesuitresource.org site offers many resources for Advent.

Beginning with the second week of Advent, families will light the Advent wreath. If you or your family would like to participate in the lighting of the candles, please call Nikki at 248-651-7486 or email at nikkiz@standrewchurch.org. Thank you.

Prayer Corner—Prayer 101

By Mike Carr

How do you approach prayer? Last week we said there were many forms of prayer, but who should we pray to? Let's continue to see how the Church instructs us regarding prayer in the Catechism of the Catholic Church, which is summary of our faith by Pope John Paul II in 1992. I underlined what struck me in the text below, but I encourage you to read and ponder for yourself not only what strikes you, but how you can form a deeper relationship with God through prayer.

SECTION ONE

PRAYER IN THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

"Great is the mystery of the faith! The Church professes this mystery in the Apostles' Creed (Part One) and celebrates it in the sacramental liturgy (Part Two), so that the life of the faithful may be conformed to Christ in the Holy Spirit to the glory of God the Father (Part Three). This mystery, then, requires that the faithful believe in it, that they celebrate it, and that they live from it in a vital and personal relationship with the living and true God. This relationship is prayer" (CCC 2558).

Prayer as God's Gift

"Prayer is the raising of one's mind and heart to God or the requesting of good things from God." But when we pray, do we speak from the height of our pride and will, or "out of the depths" of a humble and contrite heart? He who humbles himself will be exalted; humility is the foundation of prayer. Only when we humbly acknowledge that "we do not know how to pray as we ought," are we ready to receive freely the gift of prayer. "Man is a beggar before God" (CCC 2559).

Next week we will continue to look at prayer as God's gift to us.
